To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to write in support of Pierre-Simon Ntiruhungwa's petition for a U.S. visa citing his extraordinary skill set and accomplishments. My name is [REDACTED], and I am the co-founder and [REDACTED], a pioneering platform in the world of no-code, located in New York City. With my extensive background and stature within the no-code industry, I am well-positioned to evaluate Pierre-Simon's noteworthy contributions.

Over the past year, Pierre-Simon has emerged as a pivotal figure in the no-code space. He initiated the innovative "NoCode Drinks" meetup series, orchestrating events in numerous international cities such as London, Warsaw, Madrid, Barcelona, Lisbon, Toronto, and Berlin. These meetups have been instrumental in enhancing community interaction and exchanging knowledge among professionals and enthusiasts involved in the no-code community.

Additionally, I have seen Pierre-Simon's exceptional skills in community building and event organization firsthand. He orchestrated a highly successful after-party event for [REDACTED] following our developer conference, [REDACTED]. This event not only underscored his organizational prowess but also his capacity to bring our community closer, fostering collaboration and idea-sharing.

In May 2024, Pierre-Simon was featured as a speaker at NoCodeUK, an esteemed 200-person conference in London that focused on no-code and AI. [REDACTED] was honored to sponsor this event, which attracted top-tier experts from the European no-code scene. Pierre-Simon's selection as a speaker, discussing no-code and community, is a clear indicator of his recognized expertise.

At [REDACTED] often highlight exemplary community members. Tom Wesolowski, a highly-regarded individual in our ecosystem, commended the "NoCode Drinks" initiative in an interview in our blog, noting its profound effect on both local and global no-code communities, and praised Pierre-Simon for his role in it.

[REDACTED]'s success is closely tied to our ability to nurture a dynamic community through various initiatives such as forums, developer conferences, meetups, and ambassador networks. This makes me exceedingly qualified to comment on Pierre-Simon's work in both the no-code and community-building domains. His remarkable talent for organizing impactful events and growing a community testifies to his extraordinary capabilities. Pierre-Simon's initiatives have not only expanded the community but also created a platform for up-and-coming no-code developers and entrepreneurs to connect and learn.

Pierre-Simon Ntiruhungwa's accomplishments are unparalleled, and I firmly believe that his ongoing work in the United States will be significantly advantageous. His talent to engage, inspire, and lead within the no-code community aligns seamlessly with the innovative spirit that fuels progression and economic advancement.

In sum, I wholeheartedly endorse Pierre-Simon Ntiruhungwa's visa application. His significant contributions to the no-code movement are remarkable, and I am certain his future endeavors will continue to provide substantial benefits to the United States.

Please do not hesitate to reach out should you need any further information regarding Pierre-Simon's achievements or his influence on the no-code community.

Best regards,
